... presents the year 1956

SEWANEE

A year, and what a year—Sewanee's Pre-Centennial Year—a time of plans, of ideas, of thoughts of the future—and of the past, too, as this senior class marks the end of Sewanee's first century. This was a time of classes, quizzes, and term papers; and a time of Abbo, Lupo, and the Red Dean—of Chapels, and Vestry talks, not to forget Hrothgar, Pearl, and the battle of the dogs. It was a time of trips to Clara's and to Tubby's for steaks and for beer; and a time of hikes and caving to discover the beauties of the Mountain first hand. It was also a time of fraternity parties and of good dates (and some that were not so good) and of football and basketball games, drinking clubs and of costume parties and formal dances. There was also time for thought, and reverence, and of new revelations and the way they effected the everyday events; and it was a time of visiting—taking advantage of faculty-student relationship that gave so much more than could be gained in the classroom alone.

Here, the Nineteen-Fifty-Seven CAP AND GOWN, presents a summary, in words and pictures, of Sewanee, 1957—As seen in the COLLEGE with its 8 o'clock classes, panic sessions, and grades. As seen in the School of THEOLOGY with its ecclestical endeavor contrasted by the burning of old Powhatan Hall in effigy. In GOVERNMENT AND PUBLICATIONS, too, we see life in the University portrayed by its campus leaders, duly elected, working for the interests of the University. ORGANIZATIONS, the extremely important activities outside the classes are pictured as well. Our active program in the FRATERNITIES—presented chapter by chapter can tell only briefly the many activities of the "nine" on the Mountain. As no man is whole without some form of athletics, so, too, no yearbook would be complete without the histories of Sewanee teams in SPORTS. To better and fuller cover the year the CAP AND GOWN presents a new and extended feature section with as much of Sewanee life as we could cram into it. So, then, to the student body of the University of the South, here is your year NINETEEN FIFTY SEVEN AT SEWANEE.

MRS. O. N. TORIAN
(Miss Sarah)

D E D I C A T I O N

University Archivist

A true daughter of Sewanee is Mrs. Sarah Hodgson Torian—one of Sewanee's real "unsung heroes". Her many years of close personal relationship with the University have endeared her to the Sewanee community, and she has become a vital integral part of its life.

As the daughter of Sewanee's third Vice-Chancellor, the Rev. Telfair Hodgson, Miss Sarah spent her childhood at Sewanee and made her debut here in 1898. In 1907, she married Dr. Oscar Noel Torian and lived in Indianapolis, Indiana where she became an outstanding citizen and president of several women's groups. By 1941, the Torians had returned to Sewanee to take up residence in the summer home they built several years previously.

Since 1943, Miss Sarah has been University Archivist after her election by the Board of Regents on the nomination of the late Dr. Alexander Guerry. Miss Sarah has brought together a collection of historical material in many ways unique in the Episcopal Church and among educational institutions. Her collection consists of relics from the histories of Sewanee, the Southern Episcopal Church, and of the South in general. The archives collection of Episcopal Church history is one of the most valuable historical collections in existence.

Miss Sarah has known personally almost all of the spiritual characters in Sewanee history and she has long been intimately associated with the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity since her two brothers, her husband, and her two sons were all members of Tennessee Beta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta.

We, then, take great pleasure in dedicating this, the Nineteen-Fifty Seven CAP AND GOWN to Mrs. Sarah Torian for her uninhibited energy, resourcefulness, determination, and, above all, for her abiding love of Sewanee.

Ever proud of her collection, Miss Sarah shows one of her relics to sheriff Silas McBee.

General Williams and Bishop Juhan are quite interested in the microfilms of Bishop Quintard's diary which Mrs Torian is showing them.

 Fourteenth Chancellor of the University of the South

THE CHANCELLOR

Sewanee is happy to welcome as its fourteenth Chancellor, the Right Reverend Thomas Neely Carruthers, the Bishop of South Carolina. Indeed, Bishop Carruthers is a familiar figure at Sewanee having received his B.A. degree from the University in 1921, and his B.D. from St. Lukes in 1929. He has also taught in the English department of the College and has been a member of the Board of Regents for several terms. In 1940, Sewanee bestowed upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

After his ordination in 1926, Bishop Carruthers served as rector of St. Peters Church, Columbia, Tennessee; Trinity Church, Houston, Texas, and Christ Church, Nashville, Tennessee, until he was consecrated Bishop on May 4, 1944. Bishop Carruthers is also president of the Episcopal Church's Fourth Province which includes fifteen dioceses in nine Southern states.

The Chancellor acts as president of the Board of Trustees, ex-officio member of the Board of Regents and must be a Bishop of one of the University's twenty-two owning dioceses. Bishop Carruthers is now beginning his six year term as Chancellor and we wish him all due success.

Bishop Carruthers installed as Chancellor by Bishop Mitchell, the retiring Chancellor at Commencement of last year.

THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

The Vice-Chancellor is the executive president of the University. His job is perhaps the most varied and difficult of all the University's administrative positions and includes everything from installing new Gownsmen to extensive travelling to speak in cities all over the country. Dr. McCrady fulfills these very demanding obligations to the utmost and is the perfect representative of the Sewanee gentleman, scholar, and thinker.

Henry Bell Hodgkins, D.D.; the Rev. Mortimer Giorer; the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones; the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit; the Very Rev. Alfred Hardman; Mr. Hinton F. Longino.

The Board of Regents, which is elected by the Board of Trustees, is the executive agency of the Trustees. It is composed of three Bishops, three Presbyters, and six laymen of Episcopal Church with the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor an ex-officio members. It has the power of granting honorary degrees and of the government and maintenance of the University except the duties particularly reserved to the Board of Trustees. This year the Regents have laid definite plans for the completion of All Saints Chapel and the renovation of Walsh Hall.

THE BOARD OF REGENTS

THE UNIVERSITY SENATE

The University Senate is a confirmative and legislative body, with powers and duties defined in the ordinances of the University. One important function is the actual granting of degrees to students earning them by work in the College or School of Theology. The Senate is composed of the Vice-Chancellor, who serves as chairman, the Deans, the Chaplain, and all full Professors of the University.

DEAN OF ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Gaston Swindell Bruton acts as both Dean of Administration and head of the Department of Mathematics. It is also his duty to act as Vice-Chancellor during Dr. McCrady's absence from the University. Dr. Bruton is furthermore responsible for the physical maintenance of the University properties. This entails coordinating campus housing and regulating matrons and proctors in the dormitories.

DEAN OF MEN

This year we have been happy to welcome back Dr. Robert S. Lancaster as Dean of Men after a year's absence teaching under a Fulbright Grant at the University of Bagdad. His jurisdiction falls in the realm of student relations and problems, chapel and class attendance. Dr. Lancaster is also chairman of the faculty committee on discipline.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

Dr. Charles Trawick Harrison, as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, is responsible in matters of academic rules and requirements. He is consulted in questions about course credits, changes in courses, and academic records. Dr. Harrison is Professor of English and also gives a series of lectures each year on Mozart for the Music Department.

One of the most important factors of student life at Sewanee is the presence of the Matrons. Always more than generous in their offers to sew on buttons, R.O.T.C. insignia, and the like, their presence adds a home-like air to the dorms. Their apartments also provide a relaxing place to stop in to chat, watch television and munch on popcorn.

ORDER OF THE GOWNSMEN

Student government at Sewanee is provided by the Order of Gownsmen. Membership in the Order is conferred on juniors, seniors, and special students in the College who have attained 60 semester hours and a 2.00 average for the previous semester. Students in the School of Theology are also awarded the gown but do not vote.

The official functions of the Order of Gownsmen are carried out through its several committees following action by the Order sitting as a body. Its functions lie in the charting of new student organizations, conducting official business between the administration of the University and the students, attending to problems of student discipline, especially freshman discipline, and in supervising the sale of class rings. The principal committees of the Order are the Executive Committee, the Discipline Committee, and the Ring Committee. The Executive Committee is made up of the president, the vice-president, the secretary of the Order, and one Gownsmen representative from each fraternity and one from the Independents. Its duties include the scheduling of meetings of the Gownsmen, and in conducting the business of the Order. The Discipline Committee also has one representative from each fraternity and one from the Independents and usually meets once a week to assess penalties against students who have disobeyed the rules of the Order. The Ring Committee is responsible for the sale of class rings to juniors and seniors desiring them.

The academic gown first appeared on the campus of the University of the South in 1871, following a meeting of the Trustees in July of that year, where an ordinance was passed prescribing that caps and gowns be worn by students and faculty of the University, following the Oxford-Cambridge tradition upon which Sewanee was to be modeled. Two years later, in 1873, William Porcher DuBose, at that time Chaplain of the University, arranged for junior and senior students to be excused from military drill, and organized the Order of Gownsmen. Membership was limited to graduate students, and to the more advanced undergraduates. Since its founding, the Order has steadily taken on more responsibility in the handling of student affairs.

As far as handling immediate problems of student discipline, the proctors are probably the most important means at the University's disposal. They stand directly between the administration and the students in enforcing University law and in seeing that the dormitories are properly supervised. Being students themselves, they are better able to understand and solve the problems which appear in the course of everyday life in the dormitories. There is one proctor assigned to each dormitory, with the exception of Gailor Hall, which has two because of the division caused by the dining hall. The head proctor lives in upper Gailor. At the end of the year, the proctors meet to elect new proctors to replace those which will be lost by graduation. The men so selected are then submitted for approval to the administration. The position of proctor carries a great deal of prestige and responsibility on the campus.

THE HONOR COUNCIL

The conscience of the University is provided by its Honor Council. All parts of the University are represented on the Council, which is composed of two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, one freshman, all from the College, and one member from each of three classes in the School of Theology, all of whom are elected annually by their respective classes. The only time that the Honor Council meets is when a violation of the Honor Code of the University has been reported to it. If, upon examination of the case, the Honor Council decides that the Code has been violated, it reports its findings to the Dean of the College, and recommends that the offender be expelled from the University. Rigid enforcing of the honor system by the Honor Council and by the students of the University of the South eliminates the necessity for proctoring of exams by instructors, and insures a spirit of trust and cooperation among the students. In this way the Sewanee student achieves a degree of intellectual freedom which would be impossible without an active and effective honor system. The Honor Council, under the able leadership of Paris Eugene Smith, has erected signs all over the campus to daily remind the Sewanee student that "Any conception of honor requires that a man shall not lie, cheat, steal, or break his promises without just cause."

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The purpose of the Publication Board is to plan the financial allotments for the three Sewanee publications and to determine their general policy. The board is composed of six faculty representatives and two undergraduates, one elected from each of the upper classes, in an election run by the Order of Gownsmen. Non-voting, ex-officio members include the editors and business managers of the student publications. The board meets regularly once a month to discuss publications policy and to hear the reports of the publication editors. Another very important function of the Publications Board is the weeding out of the candidates for the publications positions according to the standards they believe necessary to maintain Sewanee publications at their traditionally high level.

The Mountain Goat is the student literary publication at Sewanee. Headed by an editor chosen by the student body in a campus wide election, and managed by a business manager elected at the same time, the magazine is written, edited, and set up entirely by students. The Mountain Goat attempts to secure and publish the highest quality literary work of all undergraduates in the college. It includes fiction, poetry, essays, and criticism, augmented by original art productions and cartoons. Two editions of the Goat are published annually—one a semester. Until this year it had been customary to make one issue primarily a "humor" edition and the second primarily a "literary" edition. However, this year the dual function of the Goat was very ably integrated into each issue.

The CAP AND GOWN, Sewanee's yearbook, is formulated and put together entirely by members of the student body. Headed by an editor and a business manager elected by the student body, the CAP AND GOWN staff is responsible for putting together an interesting and factual annual. Appointed department editors and interested volunteers work with the editor in the fields of reporting, photography, and advertising required to give full coverage to the year's social, organizational, class, and athletic activity on the Mountain. Except for the photographing of the individual class pictures and for the actual printing of the book, it is entirely the creation of the CAP AND GOWN staff, who do all the writing, advertising work, and photography.

The Sewanee Purple, the Mountain's newspaper, is "the official organ of the students of the University of the South". Like the other publications under the governance of the Publications Board, the Purple is edited and managed by undergraduates selected through campus-wide elections. The Purple is published regularly once a week throughout the academic year—on Wednesday evenings. Although it gives unusually competent coverage to all events of interest on the campus, it far surpasses the minimum requirements of a college newspaper by publishing weekly editorials and letters-to-the-editor on controversial and stimulating topics, movie, book, and music reviews, and interesting features. It is printed by the University Press.

Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity, was organized to give student leaders in fields other than scholarship the kind of recognition that they deserve in very much the same way that Phi Beta Kappa recognizes scholastic attainment. Membership in the organization is limited to three per cent of the student body, and to gownsmen. It is evidence of a well-rounded personality and of exceptional leadership ability, since eligibility is determined on the basis of a point system, which is arranged so that a sufficient number of points can only be acquired by excellence in several different fields. These various fields of endeavor include scholarship, student government, athletic ability, publications, speech, and dramatics. But aside from concrete accomplishments, a great deal of emphasis is placed on personal character.

The national organization of Omicron Delta Kappa was founded at Washington and Lee University, Virginia, on December 3, 1914. The Alpha Alpha circle of the fraternity was chartered at the University of the South in 1929. At Sewanee, Omicron Delta Kappa has demonstrated that it is not an inactive organization. In addition to providing a measure for personal excellence, it has served to bring outstanding leaders in all fields into close association; and by voting various faculty members to membership, it has furthered faculty-student understanding.

From every senior class, the most outstanding members are selected for listing in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Nominations for this honor are made by the Executive Committee of the Order of Gownsmen, which each year chooses the students that it considers best qualified to represent Sewanee in the publication. Some of the criteria used in selecting the students are personal character, scholarship, extra-curricular participation, leadership in student affairs, initiative and willingness to work, and promise of future usefulness. Representatives for listing in "Who's Who" are selected by more than 650 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada each year. The idea behind the publication is to present a sort of atlas of collegiate leadership and to inspire effort in the fields of scholarship and extra-curricular activities as well. Aside from the national recognition which is realized by inclusion in "Who's Who", local election by students themselves gives the seniors who are elected recognition for their four years of work.

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa is recognized as evidence of unusually high academic attainment. At the University of the South, election to the society is automatic to students with a 3.70 average for five semesters, or a 3.5 average for seven semesters of work in the college.

DAVID HAL EVETT

The society itself was founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776, where it began as a secret literary social fraternity. Since 1826 it has been a scholastic honor society, and is now accepted nationally as the outstanding society of this kind. The organization was not represented at Sewanee until 1926, when the academic standing of the University was approved, and the Tennessee Beta chapter was established.

Students who are elected to membership in Blue Key, national service fraternity, must have demonstrated ability in many fields of collegiate endeavor, which may include scholarship, leadership, athletic ability, and work in student activities. Personal character and potentiality for future growth are also taken into account in the selection of members. Blue Key has two annual tapping ceremonies, at the Homecoming and Spring dances, at which the newly elected members are informed of their election to the organization. The fraternity sponsors a number of campus activities. These include the Homecoming Queen Contest each fall, the Intramural All-Star football game, the annual pre-season debattournament, and the Inter-fraternity ("Blue Key") Sing. One of the major Blue Key presentations of the last two years has been the Sewanee Variety Show, in which students and faculty of the College, the School of Theology, and the Sewanee Military Academy, as well as other members of the Sewanee community, have participated. Ushers for chapel services and other official functions of the University are Blue Key members. Blue Key serves a valuable purpose in campus life by collecting outstanding students into a single organization, which can then work for the best interests of Sewanee.

The University Choir is not only one of the most active campus organizations, but is also one of the Sewanee groups that has gained a commendable reputation off the Mountain. Composed of interested college students, the Choir is under the able direction of Mr. Paul S. McConnell, University organist, choirmaster, and Professor of Music. The regular duties of the Choir include singing at the daily chapel services and at the eleven o'clock Sunday service. In addition to this, the Choir is frequently called upon to sing for special occasions—on holy days and funerals. One of the outstanding events of the year is the annual Christmas concert, presented on the last Sunday before the Christmas holidays. The Choir also presents programs in neighboring cities.

BAND MEMBERS

(Trombones) Cameron, Bullock, Abernathy. (Bells) McGrady. (Sousaphone) Collins. (Percussion) Hyde, Porter, Hill, Kimbrough, Arnold, McSwain, Warren. (Clarinets) Searcy, Gould, Finlay, Wollhorn, Stretch, Gungoll. (Trumpets) Harrell, Werlein, Richards, Owen.

The University Band is under the direction of the Air Force ROTC unit at Sewanee. Not all of the members of the band, however, are AFROTC cadets, as membership is open to any student in the University. They all perform in uniform and under the orders of the unit. The band plays for the ROTC drills and ceremonies, and at several special events throughout the year, such as athletic events and University celebrations. The direction of the band is shared by a special band staff composed of the commander, the student conductor and drum major, a supply officer, a guidon bearer, and a first sergeant. The most outstanding distinction to come to Sewanee's band has been their selection, for the past 5 years, as the lead band in the gala Rex Parade at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. This year, as before, the band was again invited, but was unable to make the trip. The Mardi Gras trip is both the reward for hard service rendered by the band and the most difficult performance of the year. No one seems to mind it too much, though.

Following the outbreak of the Korean War in 1950, it was felt that the University needed some sort of military training program to prevent losses in enrollment from the draft, and to allow Sewanee students to acquire an uninterrupted college education. It was for these reasons that the Sewanee Corps of Cadets of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Program was organized.

The Corps itself is divided into two squadrons and the Band; each of the squadrons contains two flights of about 25 men. The over-all organization is called the Group, and is commanded by a cadet lieutenant colonel who is assisted in the execution of his duties by a Group Staff. The three squadrons are commanded by cadet majors, and the flights by cadet lieutenants.

Academically, the Corps is divided into the basic cadets, who are freshmen and sophomores, receiving two hours of instruction

Cadet commissioned officers are drawn from the advanced cadets, while basic cadets provide non-commissioned officer material. Leadership laboratory, is held for all cadets twice weekly during good weather in the early fall and late spring, and once weekly during the winter.

Students who retain a satisfactory status in the AFROTC are deferred from military service as long as they remain in the program. Cadets who are admitted to and complete the advanced program may be commissioned as second lieutenants to serve as pilots, observers, or administrative assistants in the United States Air Force.

Instruction for the cadets in both basic and advanced courses is provided by the AFROTC staff, which includes five commissioned Air Force officers who do the actual teaching, and several non-commissioned officers who assist with the administrative work. The present Professor of Air Science is Lt. Col. Sam Whiteside.

During the first semester of this year, leadership in the Corps of Cadets was rotated among the advanced cadets. The Permanent Group Commander for the Corps was announced at the beginning of the second semester. Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Paris Eugene

PURPLE MASQUE

Purple Masque is the students' dramatic society, which produces the three yearly dramatic presentations at Sewanee. Membership is limited to undergraduate students who have earned, through successful participation in any of the many phases of Masque activity, the stipulated number of Masque points to merit election. While the elected members of the organization, with the help of Mr. Brinley Rhys, who has been directing all Masque plays in recent years, form the backbone of the dramatic activities, they are not the only ones who participate. Any undergraduate interested in dramatics can try out for the plays, and if he is selected, can earn points through his work. Points are also given for staging, lighting, make-up, advertising, and set work. Purple Masque productions this year have included the successful comedy "Mister Roberts", "The Crucible", and "The Moon Is Blue." Purple Masque attempts to provide the campus with first-rate contemporary and traditional plays, both well-produced and well-acted, and they have been eminently successful in their aims. They also produce the annual operetta in the spring, which in recent years has proved to be as popular as the fine plays produced throughout the rest of the year.

GERMAN CLUB

Ninety years ago the "German" was a popular dance, and, although it is seldom performed these days, it lives on in the name of the German Club, the coordinating agency for all major Sewanee dances during party weekends. Members of the German Club are selected from men nominated by the individual fraternities and the Independents. Its duties are many and important. In the first place, the German Club is responsible for scheduling campus-wide dances, placing them on the calendar, and coordinating their plans with the University. Once a date has been set, it begins its work in earnest. A band must be contracted—and recently the German Club has been securing top-flight bands for the dances. This phase of the Club's activities is handled by the very important Dance Committee, which may also make arrangements for incidental jazz concerts. But the practical considerations of holding a dance—financing, selling tickets, cleaning up and decorating Gailor Hall for the gala events—are responsibilities of the group too. In short, the German Club is responsible for the high quality dances which are a part of the Sewanee tradition.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu, a national social science fraternity, is represented at Sewanee by an active chapter of qualified social science students. The group sponsors campus-wide seminars, debates, and lectures on current political questions, in addition to holding regular closed meetings. Pi Gamma Mu is the indirect voice of leadership for most of the student interest in domestic and foreign affairs, and representatives of the society contribute regularly to the editorial pages of the Purple.

SOPHERIM

Campus literary activity is centered in Sopherim, the mother chapter of Sigma Upsilon literary fraternity. Concentrating on both the creative and the critical aspects of literature, Sopherim holds regular meetings for the purpose of criticising the work of aspirants to the group, as well as for informal seminars and readings of the work of the members themselves. Most of the published works in the Mountain Goal are written by members of this literary society.

MUSIC CLUB

The Music Club, an honor-service society, is the common ground for all those on the Mountain who are interested in fostering musical activity in the student body. Limited to twenty-one members at any given time, it traditionally sponsors the concert series, held both here and in Chattanooga, and it sponsors and promotes recitals and concerts by musicians on the Mountain. Although many of the Mountain's musicians are active members, no especial musical ability is required to join—merely a common appreciation of good music.

RADIO CLUB

A comparatively new organization on the Mountain is the Radio Club, which attracts the many licensed radio "hams" on the campus. Regular meetings are held, but the greatest activity of the group is directed toward practical experience in broadcasting with other "hams." The facilities used by the Radio Club are in the radio shack on the first floor of Magnolia. Active correspondence between members of the club and other "hams" throughout the country is maintained.

DEBATE COUNCIL

The Debate Council is the governing body of intercollegiate and intramural public speaking at Sewanee, and is composed of ten men who have shown interest and ability in forensic competition. The Council grew out of two now inactive debate societies, Sigma Epsilon and Pi Omega.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, is the common ground for the Gallophiles of the Mountain. The monthly meetings are conducted in French, and they stress some aspect of French culture—literature, customs, and the like. In addition to the high-brow activities of the Cercle, the club stresses French relaxation as well. French refreshments are served; French games are played. On parle francais. On boit du vin. On fait les joues. Enfin, on s'amuse bien.

Standing: Turner, Harrison, Finlay. Seated: Dr. Buck, Mrs. Buck, Miss Wheat, Miss Ware, Dr. Bates, Mrs. deLeiris. On Floor: Fleming, Ricks, McCrady, Elie, Evans.

STUDENT VESTRY

The Student Vestry, composed of elected members from all of the undergraduate classes and from the seminary, coordinate religious activity on the Mountain. Meeting regularly with the Chaplain, the Vestry is responsible for the budget, allocation of funds, and an annual report to the student body on the affairs of All Saints' Chapel. The duties of the vestrymen also include inviting and securing guest preachers for All Saints' and working with the Chaplain on campus religious activities.

ACOLYTE GUILD

The Acolytes' Guild is the organization that furnishes servers for the hundreds of church services that take place in All Saints' Chapel during the course of the academic year. In addition to this service, the Guild has made a practice of sponsoring the annual St. Mark's Milk Fund drive, to provide milk for the students in the local colored school. In this capacity the Acolytes' Guild has worked in close conjunction with other service organizations on the Mountain.

S. V. F. D.

The Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department, manning the fire house behind Science Hall, is one of the most important organizations on the Mountain. Composed of volunteers selected after competitive tests, the S. V. F. D. is responsible for protecting the entire Sewanee community. This year, under the leadership of Fire Chief Bob Marssdorf, the organization has steadily been improving its efficiency through more intensive training and the use of better equipment.

LOS PEONES

Los Peones, an association of those interested in studying Latin American culture and in bringing social life on the Mountain back to the people, regularly meet for party weekends and at other times during the year. Wearing the traditional serapes and sombreros, this active and flourishing group adds zest and vigor to the festive air of the partying Mountaineers, adding a Mexican motif to the parties and football games during the weekends.

Standing: Keck, Hatchett, Perkins, Peebles, Moore, Lord, Glenn. Seated: Estechy, Moxcey, Abernathy, Cater.

THE HIGHLANDERS

The Highlanders, a sort of society of Sewanee Jacobites, represent the freedom and unrestraint of the Scottish highlands in the usually Staid Sewanee ethos. This kilt and bagpipe coterie is primarily a social group, and they meet on party week-ends and at other specified times throughout the academic year to raise their voices in a rousing toast or a carefree tune. The Highlanders are also justly renowned for their inspiring impromptu entertainment at football games.

THE WELLINGTONS

The Wellingtons stress an aspect of Sewanee society which is almost universal—the preservation of our heritage of English culture. A social group, the Wellingtons bivouac most commonly in conjunction with the party weekends, together with dates, to model the latest Smithfield creations, discuss the most recent address to the English-Speaking Union, and drink of the cup that cheers—all with typical English reserve, formality, and correctness.

It began in September

It began in September and rush started things going. October came and with it a water shortage which was pretty rough but we weathered it. Founders Day found us dedicating Sessums Cleveland Hall as well as installing new gownsmen.

With Homecoming came John Gordy and beating Centre, and dates. Then, as Thanksgiving ended November, the Christmas season came with its parties and the Choir Concert.

After the Holidays, finals sprang upon us and after that hell week, and help week kept everyone busy until a new semester had us looking toward spring and warmer days.

Spring soon came around and plans were in the air for fraternity parties. Then, all too soon, comprehensives and finals; and in June—Commencement.

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

Thank you for your letter of January 15th, and for the pictures of the top entrants in your "Miss Sewanee" contest, which we are returning to you herewith.

Since all the girls looked so charming it was a difficult choice for Mr. Allen to make. However, he has chosen SUMIE BONDEN as "Miss Sewanee" and Mary Tudor, Nancy Kretzer, Marlene Martin, Anne Printup, Nannette Crosby, Ann Lufkin, Madeline Elmore, Evelyn Crady, Angela Austin, and Sandra Wilson to serve as the "campus favorites".

Mr. Allen asked me to convey his best wishes.

The Pan-Hellenic Council is the students' regulatory body for the nine national fraternities on the Mountain. Fraternity presidents or other elected or appointed representatives belong to the group. Its main functions are to regulate the running of the fraternity system and to work with the administration in furthering the common aims of the school and fraternities. It is most active during Rush Week, which it regulates and defines, and in sponsoring the annual Help Week programs.

Alpha Tau Omega's Tennessee Omega chapter, founded here in 1877, ended the year with notable achievements in all phases of Sewanee's life—scholarship, athletics, organizational representation, and social activities.

The chapter won first place for its Homecoming float and added greatly to the University's social season with its Christmas party, Midwinter's and Military Ball festivities, and its annual spring tea. More mundane matters were not overlooked, however, and the chapter pursued with high spirits the regular activities that fill out a year of college life.

The year was an eventful and successful one, and each of us gained from it according to our contribution.

Sewanee's young chapter of Beta Theta Pi, one of the oldest fraternities nationally, continued to uphold its high academic, athletic, and general fraternal standards during its seventh year on the Mountain. Gamma Chi chapter won prominent positions on campus publications and honorary and service organizations, and ended the intramural sports year with honors. The Phi Beta Kappa scholarship trophy was retained for the second consecutive semester by the chapter.

This year the Betas added frequent informal suppers and sings to their already buzzing party schedule, contributing something intangible, but greatly satisfying, to that aspect of fraternal life which makes it one of the lasting memories of college life. Homecoming, Midwinter's, and the annual Beta Weekend, the high point of the Gamma Chi social year, filled out the round of activities.

Beta Theta Pi's long dream of a new home on the campus was a big step closer to reality with the appointment of a committee on preparations and finances for a building expected to open its doors at the beginning of the fall term in 1958.

Beta Theta chapter of Delta Tau Delta, founded in 1883, has moved ahead with rapid progress during the past year. Minor improvements to the Shelter and Rush started events, with a successful Homecoming following only a few short weeks later. Beta Theta received a scholarship certificate from the National Fraternity for its achievements in this area. Midwinter's saw the annual Rainbow Banquet and Ball. The climax of social activity was the Parisian Party, which came just before studying for exams got under way. Beta Theta is making plans to celebrate the centennial of the University next year as well as the hundredth year of the Fraternity.

Kappa Alpha Order began its seventy-fourth year on the Mountain with secure records of a successful past and all indications of a highly promising future. Among the imperishable ideals of the South that this fraternity cherishes and fosters have been participation in all phases of campus activity with little or no detractor from the enjoyment of life in general. Kappa Alpha's enviable position in the social whirl at Sewanee was more than maintained by a highly successful rush season, Homecoming, Midwinter's, and an unmatched Old South Weekend.

Operating at near-capacity membership, KA boasted many University leaders, being well represented in scholarly, athletic, and executive honors. It was this same large membership that prompted an extensive alumni drive to obtain funds for a large and modern expansion of the house, which appears to be bringing the efforts of both academic and faculty brothers to fruition.

With the strength of Southern heritage and Sewanee tradition behind it and the tremendous capacities of its present membership, Kappa Alpha looks forward to a dynamic role in the active life of the Mountain.

Omega Chapter of Kappa Sigma began its seventy-fifth anniversary year at Sewanee with a Rush that gave us eighteen new men. The chapter placed several men in key organizational offices, and gained its highest intramural record in recent years, in addition to maintaining its high scholastic average. In all aspects of campus life, the chapter experienced a truly unforgettable year.

Omega's social events were climaxed by its diamond jubilee celebration at the second annual Star and Crescent Weekend in April, when enough festivities for a month were crowded into three much too short but memorable days, making it one of the most successful weekends ever seen on the Mountain.

The special significance of Kappa Sigma's seventy-fifth year as a part of the fraternal life of Sewanee gave us an opportunity to consider the long way the chapter has come from its days as a small sub rosa group to the present, and the still further achievements which are yet to come.

Beginning the year with a Rush that gave twenty-three pledges to the chapter, Tennessee Beta of Phi Delta Theta maintained its high position in the social, sports, and service activities of the University.

The chapter captured second place in football and was one of the top contenders in other intramural sports. The Phi Delta Theta Formal in the spring, and

A new and larger Brother George the Moose, purchased to replace his cremated predecessor, kept the living room under his watchful surveillance. Definite plans were made for renovating the downstairs room into a useful den.

Gamma Sigma chapter of Phi Gamma Delta received its charter from the University in 1919. Since its early years the chapter here has participated actively in all campus functions, setting high goals of excellence in every field.

The Fijis have drawn to its close a busy and highly successful year with outstanding achievements in sports, both intramural and varsity, in campus organizations and in service activities.

A well-filled schedule of activities included a Christmas clothing drive and party, the Pledge Tea, the annual Chi Omega party, the University dances, and in the spring, the colored children's Easter party, the Pig Dinner, and the Fiji Weekend, including the Black Diamond Formal, and the Commencement Smorgasbord dinner.

The Tennessee Omega chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the first chapter of its fraternity to own its own house. Last year the chapter celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary.

This year the SAE's have engaged with excellent records, in intramural and varsity sports, in campus leadership activities, and in the social affairs of the University year.

Founders' Day, the main event in the social season, and the University party weekends, in addition to several informal parties, gave the Sig Alphas a full round of activities during a profitably spent year.

Founded at V.M.I. in 1869, Sigma Nu Fraternity instituted Beta Omicron chapter at Sewanee in 1889. Since then the chapter has always been among the leading fraternities at Sewanee. In September the Snakes returned to a newly-decorated house—new drapes, paint, and landscaping. After a successful Rush Week and Pledge Day party, Homecoming soon arrived. Midwinter's weekend gave the second semester parties a gala opening.

Various other organized and informal parties were given to make the year's social calendar complete, the year's most outstanding event being the White Rose Formal in the spring. The Snakes ended a year of parties, intramural sports and fraternity life, with all who participated gaining for their efforts.

The Organization of Independent Men, in its second year of activity since its reorganization in 1954, was begun by the late Right Reverend Hunter Wyatt-Brown. Its membership, which numbers approximately twenty men, is open to non-fraternity men, stray Greeks, and inactive fraternity men. The Independents are organized under a written Constitution and meet every week in their club room on the lower floor of Magnolia.

The group participated this year in all major intramural sports, maintained a creditable academic rating, and sponsored several social events, among them being a Christmas party, a spring tea and open house, and numerous informal gatherings. They were active in every area of University life and expect to continue to make a valuable contribution to campus activities.

In the spring, a Sewanee Man's fancy soon turns to thoughts of the many spring weekends held on the Mountain. Each year, parties like the Kappa Sigs Star and Crescent Ball Beta Weekend, and the ATO and Phi Delt parties are all held in grand-style. Nearly every fraternity has a weekend at some time during the not-yet-hot months of April and May.

This year, as before, the weekends were all shapes and forms. The formal air of the KA's Old South and the Sigma Nu's White Rose were contrasted by the uninhibited flavor of the Fiji's South Seas Ball and the Delt's Parisian Party. As people went from house to house in their "tours of the Mountain" there were many speculations as to which was the best party—generally, no one could agree for few bad parties are given at Sewanee.

In a different vein was the annual Military Ball and its accompanying events. Here, sparkled by military flavor and visitors from the British Embassy, events took place with usual military precision.

Kimbrough handing off to Peebles (with ball) as Tommy sets up a touchdown against Centre. Helping out are Wilder (20), Abernathy (32), Kalmbach (61), and company.

A thrilling Homecoming victory over Centre College highlighted the 1956 Sewanee football season, going far to make up for an unprepossessing 1-1-6 record. The season saw the improvement of an inexperienced Tiger team trail an increasingly difficult schedule by just a little too far, as costly errors and bad breaks lost several games which could easily have gone the other way.

Coach Ernie Williamson greeted a squad big with freshmen but missing several top men, including a number who had been expected back. Several lettermen gave the Tigers an experienced nucleus, particularly at end and guard, but the team which opened the schedule on September 22 against Southwestern included three sophomores and two freshmen, and the remainder of the season consisted primarily of seasoning these talented men. The measure of the team's improvement in successive games may be seen in the upset win over the Praying Colonels.

most of the year, team support by the student body was excellent, and all of the away games were attended by Sewanee men. Homecoming and the Wash game in particular revealed the inadequacy of the stands at Hardee Field as cheering Arcadians overflowed on all sides.

The season opened at Sewanee with a fast team from Southwestern taking advantage of several fumbles to topple the Tigers 22-7. Although the Tigers fought on even terms through the first half, Southwestern's advantage of weight and experience made itself felt in the second half, as they powered to the win. Purple halfback Bill Kimbrough drove over for the season's first score to salvage something from the loss. Tiger co-captains Tommy Peebles and Lee Glenn lived up to their reputations to lead the squad.

On September 29, at Birmingham, Sewanee completely dominated play in the first half, holding Howard to 18 yards, rushing and pushing over a quick touchdown. Peebles plunged from the two for the score, which followed a 40-yard-drive. But the Bulldogs took advantage of a fumble to tie the score, and hung on grimly to repulse several Sewanee threats, as the game ended with the score Tigers 7, Howard

7. Errors again made the difference, for fumbles and intercepted passes hurt the Purple cause.

Returning to Hardee Field on October 6. Sewanee saw a 7-0 halftime lead crumble before a second-half onslaught by a big, tough bunch from Millsaps. Although greatly improved, the Tigers still seemed unable to mount any kind of sustained drive and go all the way, after Peebles' plunge capped the first march to paydirt. Several freshmen, notably halfback Walter Wilder and guard Vernon Kalmbach, showed up very well in a losing cause.

On October 13 Sewanee traveled to Clinton, Mississippi, for Mississippi College's Homecoming. The fired-up Choctaws ground out a 13-7 win, largely on the running of Percy Jones, as they overcame a Tiger half-time lead. Quarterback Al Wade Jones passed to end Bill Stallings for the Sewanee score, and Stallings kicked his fourth consecutive successful conversion in as many games, and the Tigers went ahead. But the Mississippians were not to be denied, and put together two scoring marches after the intermission. The Purple team played its best game of the season to date in this heartbreaker.

Back at Sewanee, the Tigers met their most powerful foe, Wabash, on October 20, and gave the Little Giants a real first-half scare before succumbing to overwhelming power 23 to 6. A wet field gave Wabash's big backs a strong advantage, and Sewanee's offense was consistently bottled up until the fourth period, when Bill Kimbrough, moved to quarterback after the Millsaps game, pitched a beautiful 61-yard pass to fullback Jim Abernathy for the touchdown.

On October 27, the Tigers traveled to Hampden-Sydney only to lose a real heart-breaker by a 12-6 score. Two quick touchdowns in the first quarter, following a fumble and a punt return, gave the Virginia team an insurmountable lead in a game the Tigers might have won. Wilder drove for Sewanee's touchdown. Again a wet field put the brakes on Sewanee's fast backs, placing a premium on power. For the sixth straight game, the Purple was unable to score more than one touchdown.

But early season setbacks were all redeemed November 3, when a screaming Homecoming crowd saw inspired Tigers cool the Colonels from Centre by a neat 26-0 score. The visitors, two-or-three-touchdown favorites, never got going as everything went right for Sewanee. Passing was the key to the victory; Kimbrough threw for three touchdowns and Frankie Lentz for the fourth. Wilder caught two, Abernathy one, and halfback Dick Foster one. At mid-field, the game was highlighted by the hard running of Peebles, Sonny Spore, and Andy Finlay, and by the outstanding line play of Glenn, Arnold Bush, and John Girault, but everybody got into the act in a wonderful team victory. The game was a fitting final home appearance for seniors Peebles, Glenn, Kimbrough, Dawson Crim, Dick Welch, Dick Conkling, Stallings, and Hoyt Horne.

An inspired Washington and Lee team bent on revenge for Sewanee's defeat of the Generals in 1955 and the letdown after the Centre game combined to end the season on a low note as the Virginians walked away with a 22-7 victory. Sewanee played even statistically, but were unable to keep up the tempo, and Washington and Lee scored in every period. Kimbrough made the Purple touchdown to finish off the year as it had begun.

WOW!! Tigers, you never had it so good!

Head Coach Ernie Williamson, End Coach Walter Bryant, Line Coach Horace Moore, and Freshmen Coach Dave Jones worked hard all season to bring about the heartening improvement which characterized the 1956 team. Backs Dick Foster, Walter Wilder, Andy Finlay, Jim Abernathy, Sonny Sopre, Bernie Dunlap, and Frankie Lentz, and linemen Vernon Kalmbach, Arnold Bush, John Girault, Topps Chew, and Tommy Black received valuable seasoning which should stand the Tigers in good stead next fall. The veterans—Peebles, Crim, Welch, Conkling, Horne, Stallings, Jones, Bruce and Duff Green, Dave Hatchett, and all the others, earned a measure of commendation far outweighing the schedule's results. Bill Kimbrough and Lee Glenn deserve special mention, Kimbrough for his successful conversion to quarterback and Glenn for his election to the Little All-American team.

These fine coaches and players all contributed to a year in which, in spite of a poor won-lost record, the best qualities of truly amateur athletics were demonstrated on the field and off, to the credit of the 1956 team, its coaches, and its individual players, and to Sewanee.

This season in basketball did not bring the best won-lost record in Sewanee history, but the team never stopped trying and ended the schedule with a red-hot four-game winning streak for an 8-12 record. Graduation from last year's team hurt and mid-season saw the loss of four first-line men, but Coach Lon Varnell came up with a good combination, a credit to coach and school.

A strong Birmingham-Southern team, the first Sewanee opponent, beat a nervous Tiger team that never really got started, 60 to 45. The next outing showed a 100 per cent improvement as the Tigers beat Oglethorpe 62-49. The annual trip to Nashville resulted in a Vandy win by a score of 87-45. Although the S.E.C. power was never hard-pressed, it had to stay on its toes and our Tigers turned in a good account of themselves.

A return to our floor netted the team a win over Centre by 77-56 and a loss to sharp-shooting Tennes-

State, 67-53, and fell to Transylvania in spite of a thrilling second-half comeback; the final score was 61-58. A trip to Memphis resulted in another second-half effort that did not fail; the Tigers took Southwestern 70-67. But before returning home they dropped one to Lambuth, 59-54.

The semester's end saw the loss of four starters, which clouded the future prospects of the Sewanee basketballers. In spite of the losses, the "new" team played fine ball, and in their second outing against Florence State beat them 67-59.

The low point in the season came with a southern swing which resulted in a second loss to Birmingham-Southern, 66-50, and two losses to Millsaps by scores of 81-73 and 84-60. A tour of Kentucky saw the Tigers lose to Transylvania, 83-58, and then Belmont won on the Sewanee floor by a 76-81 margin.

Throughout the string of losses the team never stopped trying and finally jelled with a vengeance. A game with Chattanooga found the Tigers pulling away in the second half to win 82-59. At home again revenge was had on Lambuth by a 72-69 score. Southwestern was next, and a rout in the second half gave the Tigers a 71-39 victory. In the season's final the muscle-bound Mocassins from Chattanooga were again no match and Sewanee won 94-60.

During the first half of the season Tiger standouts included guards Howard Owen and Jimmy Foster, with Dick Dezell and Larry Heppes doing some fine work at forward. The second semester team was sparked by Jack Banks and Jack Moore at guard. Under the basket Jim Roberts turned in some fine rebounding. Frankie Lentz and freshman Charlie Joseph played very well in the closing games.

But the dominant influence on the team was Captain Larry Isacksen, who broke all school scoring records with a 53-point outburst against Chattanooga in the final game. Isacksen, who failed only twice all season to hit double figures, finished with 497 points for a 24.85 average.

The cross-country team, composed mainly of freshmen, ran doggedly through a season of three wins and five defeats. The only returning lettermen were Kent Rea and Bob Marssdorf, team captains. Although the majority of the team lacked experience, it competed with determination and a will to win. The team has great potential and should do well next year with more experience.

The season opened on the Sewanee course with a rousing 20-41 win over Memphis State. The following week the Tiger harriers came out second best in a three-way meet with Union and David Lipscomb at Nashville. The next meet, held at Sewanne, saw Bryan University win by a heart-breaking 27-30 score. Then the team traveled to Knoxville, only to lose to the top-ranking University of Tennessee runners. The harriers were victorious over Southwestern on the Sewanee course, but met defeat the next week over the Southwestern course.

The Tigers' final meet was with Bryan University and Kentucky Wesleyan at Dayton, Tennessee. Sewanee's squad of Kent Rea, Bob Marssdorf, Fred Jones, Bill Barnwell, Fred Brown, Fudd Cox and Snuffy Gelston placed third in the contest.

CROSS COUNTRY

A fine turnout of enthusiastic athletes greeted Track Coach Horace Moore at the beginning of his first season at Sewanee, and had already produced an extremely impressive victory as the CAP AND GOWN went to press. Captains Kent Rea, Ronnie Palmer, and Bob Keck headed the squad.

In spite of the loss of such standouts from last year's team as Penn Bowers, Ken Kennett, and school record-holders Martin Moore (shot-put) and Art Tranakos (discus), returning veterans and able newcomers combined to build a sound team, especially strong in the dashes and middle distances. Keck, Dick Foster, and Mike Veal in the sprints, Rea and Dick Hughes in the 880, Palmer in the mile, and Bob Marssdorf, Fred Jones, and Bill Barnwell in the two-mile, were outstanding in the running events. Broad-jumper Bill Cranz, high-jumper Fred Daniels, and pole-vaulters Halsey Werlein and Jim Scott shone in the field.

In the opening meet of the six-meet schedule, the Tigers trounced Howard by a resounding 116 to 13, as they placed one-two in most events. Dick Foster topped individual scoring with 15 points.

Four returning lettermen will form the nucleus of this spring's Tiger tennis team. Captain Ralph Troy, number three last year, heads the squad, along with Jim Crowther, Jack Talley, and Bill Marks. An unusually large group of aspirants will provide the remaining members of the eight-man squad. This group includes John McCaa, Warren Holland, Dave Evett, Bob Hare, Mike Woods, Stuart Odend'hal, Tate Greenwald, Fred Devall, and Jackie Thompson. The team will be coached this year by the seminary's W. O. Cross.

A shortage of experience will be the chief problem confronting the netters, as four men, including T.I.A.C. singles champion Dick Briggs, failed to return.

Matches with Vanderbilt and Georgia, plus the annual T.I.A.C. tournament, highlight the schedule in which the Tigers will attempt to match their excellent 1956 record.

TENNIS

Golf Coach Walter Bryant welcomed back all five of last year's lettermen as the squad began working out on the Sewanee course, and with several promising new men is looking forward to a prosperous season. Last year's number one man, Flowers Crawford, heads a list of veterans which also includes Buck Cater, Bill Stallings, Betts Slingluff, and Alex Looney. Bob Gregg and Don Forehand are foremost among several freshman candidates for the team.

This array of talent is expected to approach last year's fine record. The 1956 golfers won nine, lost two, and tied three. This year's schedule of twelve matches began after the CAP AND GOWN went to print. Vanderbilt and the University of Chattanooga head the list of Sewanee opponents, along with perennially tough Middle Tennessee.

Coach Horace Moore's matmen ended their season with an adequate record: 2 wins, 1 tie, and 4 losses. Captain Kent Rea and outstanding freshmen Todd Breck and Ned Harris (individual scoring leaders) led the squad to a very fine showing. After a slow start against Emory and Auburn, the Tigers ended the season with a third place finish in the Southeastern Intercollegiate Tournament. This was the highlight of the season, as every man entered placed. Other highlights of the year were two runaway defeats over Vanderbilt and a pair of close losses to Chattanooga.

With only two seniors (Rea and Bill Stallings) to graduate, eight returning lettermen will spark next year's squad, including John Girault, Bill Craig, Max Young, C. E. Holmes, Harris, and Breck, whose outstanding work this season promises well for next year.

The Sewanee sports picture received a refreshing addition with the advent of a swimming team. The team's victorious season of six wins and two losses was the result of able coaching, great enthusiasm among the team members, and the whole-hearted support of the faculty and student body.

The first meet of the season was against high-ranking Georgia Tech. The Tech swimmers won, but the Tigers turned in an impressive performance. As the season progressed, the Sewanee swimmers gained in experience, and Sewanee was victorious over Berea, Emory, Birmingham Southern (twice), Eastern Kentucky, and Vanderbilt. The Vandy meet, with a score of 64-22, was one of Sewanee's major victories. The only other loss of the season was to the University of Kentucky.

The season was highlighted by the performances of sprinter Tony Veal, breaststroker Bill Nichols, and distance swimmer Jay Cleveland. Other outstanding members of Coach Hugh Caldwell's squad included George Bentz, Neill Baxter, Jim Scott, Bill Stallings, Fred Brown, Bruce Samson, and Captain Harry Moorefield. With only two lettermen graduating, Sewanee has high hopes for next year's team.

THE "S" CLUB

Varsity letter winners, who comprise the membership of the "S" Club, had an active year. Their activities included the sale of programs and refreshments to pay for the football scoreboard, the faculty-"S" Club softball game, and the presentation of awards for best Homecoming float and "Senior Athlete of the Year." "S" Club officers this year were President Lee Glenn, Vice-President Kent Rea, and Secretary-Treasurer Dick Hughes.

CHEERLEADERS

Sewanee's school spirit was harnessed and led this year by an excellent set of cheerleaders headed by Jim Gilliland. The hard-working group, in addition to leading cheers, sponsored pep rallies before several football games and conducted the annual torchlight parade and bonfire before the Homecoming victory over Centre, with the aid of the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department.

INTRAMURALS

One of the most exciting races for the championship in years highlighted the 1956-57 intramural program, with the ATO's having pulled into the lead as the CAP AND GOWN went to press. Exceptional interest and a record number of participants contributed as well to a successful season.

Touch football and cross-country opened the eleven-sport calendar. From the opening kick-off of the first game, the football race was a breathlessly tight one, with a powerful SAE squad, led by Wilkinson, Heppes, Moore, and Estachy, emerging victorious from a three-way play-off for the title. The SAE's defeated the Phi's, who had edged the ATO's, then went on to smash the Intramural All-Stars in the annual post-season spectacle.

The Alpha Taus copped the cross-country championship by placing four freshmen in the first seven runners, including winner Bill Barnwell, Second-place finisher Clayton Farnham led PDT to the runner-up spot, with PGD third.

A towering KA squad, paced by standout Bruce Samson, went undefeated to capture the volleyball championship. The Theologs and PDT fought it out for second and third places respectively in a close race.

Homer Knizley, Laurence Alvarez, and Ralph Doughty paced the Independents to basketball victory in another exciting race. The Outlaws copped the crown by squeezing past the second-place ATO's 35-31 in a climatic game. The KA's, who led through most of the season, were third. Individual scoring honors went to Sigma Nu Fred Daniels and Theolog Dave Jones.

Jim Porter took the handball singles' title with a victory over the Independents' Anderson, and combined with Ed Stewart to place second in doubles, to give the Alpha Taus an overall victory in this sport. Theologs Jones and Breyfogle won the doubles and second place, with the Outlaws third.

The ATO's moved into the lead for the Intramural Trophy with a sweeping victory in the IM track meet. Ed Stewart, Dick Hughes, Walter Wilder, and Ned Harris stood out for ATO. The Independents were second in the meet, and moved into the same position in the over-all standings. PDT, behind Farnham and Talley, finished third.

Badminton, tennis, golf, swimming, and softball championships remained to be decided as the CAP AND GOWN went to press. In the badminton race, ATO Bill Marks was favored to take the singles. An all-veteran Theolog squad was a strong favorite to carry off the laurels in softball. The remaining sports appeared to offer close races.

Athletic and Intramural Director Walter Bryant, student assistants Jack Banks and Bill Breyfogle, and Intramural Council President Chuck Mattison are to be commended for a fine year in intramural sports. Schedules operated smoothly, and the program continued to be a source of pleasure to the student body.

A Note of Thanks

Editing a yearbook is no easy task as one learns after one year of experience. Without the fine work of the annual staff, the job would have been impossible. I would like to thank the staff for a difficult job well done.

I would like to specially thank the Rt. Rev. Frank A. Juhan and Mr. Arthur Chitty for their gracious donations which made possible our color work.

To Mr. John T. Benson, III, of the Benson Printing Company, who suffered with us throughout the year and Mr. Robert B. Faerber, Vice President of Alabama Engraving Company, who assisted greatly during the year, I would like to extend grateful thanks.

A yearbook is basically a collection of photographs and to our photographers go the thanks of the entire staff. For their excellent portrait work, I would like to thank Mr. Walden S. Fabry and Mr. Togo Uchida of Fabry Studios of Nashville. Many thanks, too, to Mr. Howard Coulson of Coulson Studio of Cowan for his group pictures and special photofinishing. And thanks, also to Harvey Allen and Don Ormsby for their coverage of life on the Mountain as presented here, and to Fairfield Butt, Dave Evett, and John Lohmann for their extra work in proof and "wrapping up" this book; and Tom and Betty Hawkins for the many odd jobs they did.

Without the help of these and many more people, the story of NINETEEN FIFTY-SEVEN AT SEWANEE might have never been printed.
